The Client acknowledges, recognises and understands that: trading and investing in Instruments is highly speculative, may involve an extreme degree of risk and is appropriate only for persons who can assume risk of loss; and that the past performance of a security, industry, sector, market, or financial product does not guarantee future results or returns.
- 2.2. The Client acknowledges, recognizes and understands that the Instruments which are shares made available via the Investment Module are all admitted to trading on a regulated market, and in the event that the Client wishes to sell its Instruments, a corresponding buyer of those Instruments must be found in the underlying market. Whilst certain Instruments can be very liquid, the Client should be aware that others can be less liquid and it is not guaranteed that there will be a buyer for Client's Instruments. Therefore, the Client may not be able to realise its investment or realise it at its actual market value. In some circumstances, such as instances of market volatility or where trading in a particular Instrument or on a particular underlying market has been suspended or otherwise restricted, it may not be possible to find a buyer for the Client's Instruments, meaning the Client will not be able to liquidate the Client's positions. The Instruments which are fractional shares cannot be traded on regulated markets (such as public exchanges) and as such may be subject to greater liquidity

Additionally, positions in fractional shares cannot be transferred to another broker and must be sold via the Third Party Broker.

Thus, the Client agrees not to hold Galt & Taggart responsible for losses incurred as a consequence of Galt & Taggart carrying the Client's Account and following any information/recommendations/suggestions or those of its employees, associates or representatives;
 - 2.3.4. The Client is aware of the fact that Galt & Taggart shall not conduct any continuous monitoring of the Transactions already entered into by the Client neither individually nor manually.
